One Soul Made the Circuit. Yesterday's game even stirred up the poet-laureate. Hear him:

Tell us not that mournful number, Three to one seems as a dream. It makes us sad as we murmur. Can these games be as they seem? Ball is real, ball is earnest,

And the home plate is its goal; Three strikes, "to the bench returnest," Who made the circuit? One soul. -E. C. A.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Fisher's Pitching, Finely Backed Up. Won a Brilliant Game. When Hatfield hit down to Newell and the ball lodged in Motz's hands a second before the runner reached first in that ninth inning yesterday the two thousand people at the ball grounds cheered the hardest earned victory Indianapolis has had here this season. It was a battle royal from start to finish and a magnificent game of ball. Every play was watched with almost breathless interest by the spectators, and they had many a chance to shout. Thus far this season there has been no real up-and-up fight between pitchers seen here, but yesterday Fisher and Hastings were pitted against one another and the battle was a hot one, the Indianapolis man getting the best of it and landing the game for his team. He was given superb support, only one error marring the score, and that cost nothing. Just nine of Manning's men reached first base, three on balls, four on safe hits, one on an error and one on a life. Only three of these men reached third, Hines, who scored their only run, Bergen and Klusman. There was some of the finest infield work of the done during the nine innings and deserves much of the credit for several fine stops at critical times. Glenalvin, despite his error, accepted several ces, while Manning, Connaughton and Hatfield let nothing get away from them. Bergen's bad throw counted for nothing, as hits enough followed to earn the run. Hines had a couple of great catches in right, robbing McFarland of a home run in the ninth. This catch was the sensational one of the game.

There was a general feeling from the start that the game was going to be hotly contested, and after the first inning everybody looked for just what came-a pitchers' battle. It was seen that both Fisher and Hastings had great speed and were steam on. Hogan made rather an lowd shouted when Newell was hit the leg, and "whooped it up" still louder first on balls, but McCarthy spoiled the prospect by hitting into Hatfield's hands and forcing Newell out at third. Motz flew to Hines. Newell and Motz cared for Manning in good style, Bergen struck out and after Connaughton got a base on balls te was easily caught stealing second. Then the people knew they were in for a great and they didn't lose point from that With one out in the second, Klusman was given a base on balls, Nichol flew to Hogan and Hatfield forced Klusman out at first. Newell was the first man on either team to get a safe hit. With two out in the third he hit a beauty to center, but Canavan went out from Manning to Klusman. When, with one out, Motz lifted the ball to left for three bases, there was the wildest enthusiasm seen for some time. Roat hit to Connaughton, who seemed dazed by Motz's big start for the plate, and who held the ball so long that Roat beat the throw to first. McDermott called him out, however, and Glenalvin hit into Klusman's hands, Bergen opened the last half of the fourth with a slashing two-bagger to right, and a tie seemed certain. Connaughton sacrificed him to third, but Hines hit to Roat and was thrown out at first, Bergen not daring to come in. Klusman struck out. The game ran along in this fashion until the seventh when, with two out, Glenalvin hit to Connaughton, who fell in fielding the ball "Glen" beating his high throw out. Mctwo-hagger

Fisher retired the side from Connaughton to Klusman. The third and last run for Inwith one out. Newell made his second safe hit, stole second and went on to third on Bergen's throw to head him off, which Connaughton and Manning failed to go after Canavan flew to Manning, but IcCarthy lined a single to right, sending Newell in. Motz drove a safe one in the same direction and stole second, but Nichol captured Roat's long fly and stopped the

Although Manning's men looked dangerons in the seventh they were disposed of without doing any damage. Klusman led off with a hit, but was forced by Nichol's grounder to Glenalvin. Nichol stole sacrificed him third, where he was left by Hernon's strik-In the ninth they made a desone which Fisher stopped and man out. Hines drove a threepagger along the left foul line and Klus nan followed with a double to left which saved Kansas City a shut-out. Nichol went out from Glenalvin to Motz, and when Hatfield hit that slow grounder to Newell every one was on tip-toe till the hall got over to Motz just in advance of

A Good Week's Showing. Indianapolis won five out of six games last week, a showing nobody can complain of. Over one hundred points still separate the leaders from Detroit, the latter team losing yesterday, and with nine more games to play on the home grounds their lead should grow instead of diminishing. St. Paul comes Tuesday for three games and Minneapolis and Milwaukee follow in order.

M'LEOD AND BAPTISTE.

The Great Handicap Wrestling Match at English's Next Friday Night.

When Dan McLeod wrestled Charles Wittmore here last month the marvelous little California wrestler was so delighted with the reception given him that he now swears by Indianapolis. It is owing to his partiality for this city that his big match with George Baptiste, the great French wrestler, will be pulled off here at English's Opera House next Friday night. The men were to have wrestled at St. Louis July 4, but Baptiste's backers were afraid to put up the rest of their money, having evidently heard of McLeod's wonderfu work in handicap matches recently. Baptiste had $200 of his own money up, and re-lied on his backers to furnish $300 more to make up his $500. When they falled to do so McLeod could have claimed the forfeit but preferred to let it stand and bring the match off in this city for $200 a side—the amount already up-the winner to take all gate receipts. He allows Baptiste $25 for

The conditions of the match are similar recisely to those under which Hale met McLeod here in May-that is, McLeod is to throw Baptiste three times within an hour's actual wrestling time, ten minutes' rest to e allowed between falls. If Baptiste throws McLeod once he wins the match and all the money. The match is catch-ascatch-can, with nothing barred but flying falls. The Frenchman is a formidable antagonist for McLeod under the handicap nditions. He is a wrestler of long-estab ished reputation, and weighs just about the same as the Californian, though he is a little shorter in stature. Some years ago he promised to be the world's champion in the ddle-weight class, but could not keep his weight low enough to stay in that class, so McLeod will have lively work before him, no time can be wasted on the mat, and the audience at English's next Friday night will see the liveliest match from start to finish that was ever known here. The prices are popular, as usual, and seats go on sale next Thursday.

Ollie Beard is doing some powerful hit ting for Evansville and playing short in great shape. Sam Mills, of that team, was compelled to lay off for repairs. He is back in the game again, however, and playing good ball, judging from the scores. Springfield is still leading in the Eastern League race, while Nashville tops the lis Southern League, with Atlanta and Evansville close up. The Southern League continues to hang on, but is liable to collapse any day. A good pitcher might be dered out of the game picked up from one of the three leading tendance, 12,500. Score:

Amos Rusie, speaking of his fine for drinking, says he had just met Burke when the latter came to the hotel under the "in fluence," and he thought the fine unjust. It is said that Rusle notified Mr. Freedman that he would not pitch unless th fine was remitted, and it was understood that the penalty was lifted.

"Rasty" Wright tells an amusing experience that Manager Ellis had last season with Devinney, an erratic infielder, who broke into the league for a short time. Indianapolis was his first victim, but Sharsig soon released him. At this time Grand Rapids was in desperate straits for a sec-ond baseman, and Ellis told Devinney that while he knew he could not play a lick on earth, still he must have a man to occupy the position, and he would sign him on co dition that the contract could be terminated by either party at an instant's notice. De-vinney agreed, and for a month booted the ball around second base in a lively style. Finally Ellis got hold of another man, and told Devinney that he could go. The latter said that he wanted five days' notice, and Ellis told him that if he would leave town at once he would give him the extra money playing in Grand Rapids at that time, and after getting his release Devinney went down to see Cushman, who was badly in need of a shortstop. "Cush" told him that if he would play short that afternoon he would give him $10. As the five-day notice ion to his playing that afternoon with Milwaukee. Ellis not only said that he did not care, but that he would give him an additional five if he played the same another five for every subsequent game he played with Milwaukee against Grand Rapids. Ellis said it was worth that much to see him on another team and enjoy the other man's vigorous comments as he made

Brighton Beach Handicap. NEW YORK, July 6.- The good card that had been prepared for to-day's racing at Brighton Beach was ruined by scratches, and while some of the withdrawals were doubtless due to the heavy track, it was evident that there was considerable padding. The feature of the day was the Brighton handicap, in which some of the best handicap horses were entered, but only three out of the seventeen started. Lucky Dog was the favorite, and Lovdal, of the same stable, was the outsider, but he was backed by a few knowing ones. Lucky Dog was full of running until they turned into the stretch, when Walker did not try a vard after Lovdal caught him, and let the outsider win among cries of "put him off," and vigorous hissing from the crowd. the steeplechase The Peer was the favorite, but fell, and, although his rider never los his seat, he was unplaced. During the past few days all our prospects have seemed to vanish. The boys are trobuled with pains in their limbs and drowsiness, and the food they partake of does not seem to nourish them. Hager, who pulls near three, and Fennell, who pulls near five, are the worst sufferers in this connection. The worst of it is that Fennell, who has been the life of the crew, keeping them jolly and light-hearted, is now sick and glum. I am sick myself, but I say nothing, in order not to discourage the boys. Our time over the course has fallen off seventeen seconds, and it is too late to use substitutes if we hope to win. I attribute the trouble to the sudden changes of weather, and, if I must admit it, I have had a touch of malaria. Greeborn, of the Cornell crew, discussing the drawing later in the day, said: "We are pitted against the strongest crew on the river. However, we shall do our best." The Argonauts, of Toronto, are pitted in the first heat of the race for the Steward's challenge cup against the crew of the London Rowing Club. The Canadians also won the Bucks side. MacLean, an old oarsman Eton and Oxford experience, who has been present at the Henley regattas of twenty years past, thinks that the Cornell men are htedly a very fine crew, and the best the United States could produce, as they have carried everything before them in America. He adds: "They are simply an unknown quantity in the competition for the grand challenge cup, and if they win we must reconsider our most cherished ideas of rowing." Mr. MacLean also expressed the opinion that the Canadians, with the crew of the Argonaut rowing Club of Toronto, consisting of C. H. Munz, C. H. Thompson, E. A. Thompson and R. A. Valkyrie III Runs Away from Britan-HUNTER'S QUAY, July 6 .- Valkyrie III, Ailsa and Britannia started to-day in the first race of the regatta of the Royal Clyde Yacht Club, with a fine southerly wind blowing. The first prize was £100; second, £30. The course was about fifty miles. Time allowances granted by Valkyrie to her competitors under the rules of the yacht association were: Ailsa, 2 m. 59 s.; Britannia, Ailsa and Britannia were recalled for being over the line too soon. Valkyrie did splendidly in the beat to windward, and soon had a long lead on Ailsa, leaving Britannia down the Firth on the opposite tack. It was noticed on all sides that the cup challenger sailed very fast before the wind. Roughly speaking Valkyrie gained about 9 minutes, taking into consideration the difference in times at the start over Britannia in the first twenty-five miles of the course. The yachts finished as follows: Valkyrie, 4 h. 31 m. 10 s.; Britannia, 4 h. 49 m. 36 s.; Ailsa, 4 h. 50 m. 57 s. Consequently Valkyrie won by 18 minutes 26 seconds actual time, and by 14 minutes 24 seconds corrected time, deducting Britannia's time allowance of 4 minutes 2 seconds.

Valkyrie's trial to-day against Britannis and Allsa is regarded as a fair one. The result was a thoroughly satisfactory one to her owner, Lord Dunraven. There was a steady breeze, but the wind was not too strong for the small jib top sails. An authority on yachting said that the Valkyrie would undoubtedly prove a very wonderful vessel in light weather. The form displayed to-day places her far in front of the V lant. Later the commodore signaled Niagara, and Mr. Gould's yacht gave up the race, from which it was assumed that Zinita's protest referred to her. Previous to that Eucharis and Niagara had been sailing a very close race in the run up to the Powder buoy with their spin-makers to port. The yachts finished in the following times: Eucharis, 3 h. 40 m. 50 s.; Zinita, 3 h. 41 m. 55 s.; Dakotah, 3 h. 54 m.

NAILED TO A LOG.

Girl Assaulted and Tortured by Three Kentucky Fiends.

ASHLAND, Ky., July 6 .- A horrible story of outrage and murder comes from the upper Plaine creek district of Elliot county. A young girl named Jordan, while crossing a stretch of woods, en route to the home of a neighbor, was forcibly taken to an old deserted house in the mountains and reeatedly assaulted by three young men, then choked the girl till they supposed her dead, according to the report received here, and, placing her against the wall of the hut, with her arms extended, nailed her hands to the logs. The girl was discovered some time later by a searching party and recovered sufficiently to tell the names of her assailants. She died later and the enraged people are hunting the murderers, who escaped to the mountains.

Good Shooting with Rifles. GLENDALE PARK, L. I., July 6.-This was the sixth day of the First National Schuetzenfest, and was an excellent one if point of light and sight, from a shooter's standpoint. The shooting to-day developed nothing of an extraordinary nature until about 6 o'clock in the atternoon, when William Vorbach, of Williamsburg, N. Y., scored 72 on the honor target Columbia, eating the high score of Schuster, the Californian, who made 72 yesterday. The enthusiasm of the Eastern cranks broke out a few minutes later when Gus Zimmerman. the famous rifle shot, scored 40 out of a possible 50 at the standard target. His score was made up of four buil's-eyes, counting ten each, and the nine was absolutely on the edge of the ring, which, had it been a little closer, would have given him the maximum score.

The Great Hollywood Shoot. HOLLYWOOD, N. J., July 6 .- In the Holywood futurity handicap shoot to-day Ivins, Work and Jones tied for first place, each having twenty-four killed to his credit. One of Ivins's birds fell dead out of bounds, Work had the same misfortune and Jones missed his nineteenth closely. In the shoot-off for the cup Ivins won, killing straight, Jones missed his seventh and Work his sixth and ninth. The score follows: Ivins, 24; Work, 24; Jones, 24; Mott, 23; Chapin, 23; Leonard, 23. Others were out. In the shoot-off for first the following score was made: Ivins, 10; Jones, 9; Work, 8. In the shoot-off for fourth place, the following was the result: Leonard, Chapin, 13; Mott, 12.

Holy Land and the Bible. A very large circular tray of tinned conper, placed on a coarse wooden stool about a foot high, served as a table. In the center of this stood another big tray, with a mountain of pilaff, composed of rice, boiled and buttered, with small pieces of meat strewn through and upon it. This was the chief dish, though there were other smaller dishes, both meat and vegetable. Ten persons sat around the table, or rather squatted on the carpet, with their knees drawn up close to their bodies. Each had before him a plate of tinned copper and a wooden spoon, which some used without the plate.

As soon as anyone had finished he rose and went into another room to have water poured over his hands to wash them, and he vacant place at the table was instantly filled by a newcomer. The bread, I may say, was laid on the mat under the tray, so as to be easily reached, and a jar of water, the only beverage used during the meal, stood within reach. Besides rice, stews of beans or cracked wheat, with thick soup or sauce poured over them in the great central bowl, are also in fashion. Spoons, though sometimes provided, are often wanting—pieces of thin bread, doubled, serving instead. Knives and forks are unknown, and as there is no special dining room, there is no furniture suited for one. BRISTOL, R. special to the Indianapolis Journal.

NEW YORK, July 6.-Again did riders sacrifice their chances for racing work for some time to come by competing at the National Circuit meeting of the Riverside wheelmen, on Manhattan field, to-day, Men fell in nearly every heat and final of Class A races, and several were seriously injured. Among the number was W. C. Roome, of the New Jersey Athletic Club, who broke two bones in his shoulder. New York has a good track, and there is no excuse for risking neck and limb of good men by asking them to ride on Manhattan field track, banked, as it is, but barely two feet, and five-cornered with level sharp turns. Not less than a score of men fell. As usual in the Metropolitan district, the great number of entries forced nearly a score of heats in the Class A events, and the programme was long and tiresome. The National Circuit meet on this track is always a disappointment, inasmuch as few of the "B" men ever start, even though they enter, being scared out by the invariables in Class A.

Allen and Steenson had paced and Maddox started a three-quarter-mile sprint. At the last turn Maddox rounded wide and Titus swung close, catching a victory thereby. The finish was a length apart all around, with Butler fourth and fifth. The last half in as has been seen this season was the last half of the race. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 6 .- Dr. Edward R. Palmer, one of the most prominent physicians of this city, and well known throughout the Southern States, was killed on the Southern boulevard last night, while riding his bicycle, in a collision with another wheelman, William R. Colston, Both men were thrown to the ground, but Mr. Colston was quickly revived. Dr. nowever, could not be revived and was renoved to the Norton Infirmary, where he died at an early hour this morning, without having regained consciousness. Dr. Palmer was president of the genito-urinary section of the American Medical Association, and has been a valued contributor to medical publications for the past ten years. He was born in Woodstock, Vt., and came to Louisville forty-four years ago.
